HOW TO GET THE LOOK

BY JUAN RAMIREZ FOR ANGELO DAVID SALON

SKIN

First he perfected her skin with Giorgio Armani skin perfection cream to control unattractive shine. The foundation was Giorgio Armani Luminous Silk Foundation in number 10 and 2 . Apply in a downward motion on the face around the temples and along the cheek bones of the face thin layer. At the center of the face just use the foundation too so you don't get an unattractive shine. Conceal with Lancôme waterproof mixed with Armani's no. 1 color corrector. Blot center of the face with Laura Mercier Loose powder to set lightly. Mix Hourglass luminous powder palette to set under the eye to brighten and highlight the face. CHANEL Les Beiges 50 healthy glow sheer color was used to contour and add warm to the face. Pop cheeks with Nar's Orgasm blush.

EYES

Eyes are primed with Urban Decay's nude primer. Giorgio Armani's Eye Tint in 10, 12 and 11 gave beautiful luminous lids. Inglot black liner gave definition. Giorgio Armani's Black Ecstasy was used on lashes.

LIPS

Giorgio Armani Blush Lip Maestro 500 gloss was used on lips and topped with CHANEL nude gloss.
